DECLARATION OF RICHARD A. WILLIAMSON IN OPPOSITION TO DEFENDANTS USAIRWAYS, INC.'S, US AIRWAYS GROUP, INC.'S, COLGAN AIR, INC.'S AND CONTINENTAL AIRLINES, INC.'S RESPECTIVE MOTIONS FOR SUMMARY JUDGMENT WITH RESPECT TO WTCP CROSS-CLAIM PLAINTIFF'S FLIGHT 175 CLAIMS AGAINST THEM AND PURSUANT TO FED. R. CIV. PRO. 56(f)

RICHARD A. WILLIAMSON, pursuant to 28 U.S.C. § 1746, declares under the penalties of perjury under the laws of the United States that the following is true and correct:

1. I am a member of the Bar of this Court and of the law firm of Flemming Zulack Williamson Zauderer LLP, attorneys for Cross-Claim Plaintiffs World Trade Center Properties LLC, 1 World Trade Center LLC, 2 World Trade Center LLC, 4 World Trade Center LLC, 5 World Trade Center LLC, and 7 World Trade Company, L.P. (the "WTCP Cross-Claim Plaintiffs") in the above-captioned litigation. I submit this declaration in opposition to US Airways, Inc., US Airways Group, Inc.'s (together "US Airways"), Colgan Air, Inc.'s ("Colgan"), and Continental Airlines, Inc.'s ("Continental") respective motions for summary judgment with respect to Flight 175 claims (together, the “Moving Defendants’ motions”) and pursuant to Fed. R. Civ. Pro. 56(f).

A. THE MOVING DEFENDANTS’ MOTIONS MUST BE DENIED PURSUANT TO FED. R. CIV. PRO. 56(f)

2. WTCP Cross-Claim Plaintiffs respectfully request that this Court deny the Moving Defendants’ motions pursuant to Fed. R. Civ. P. 56(f) because the WTCP Cross-Claim Plaintiffs have been denied necessary discovery in order to maintain a complete and effective defense to the motions.

3. Despite numerous requests and meet and confer sessions, each of the Moving Defendants has failed to produce documents responsive to various discovery requests and has failed to produce witnesses for depositions. Furthermore, all Plaintiffs are awaiting the production of certain documents and information related to the FBI’s post-9/11 investigations into the September 11th attacks which, as established below, relate to what the Moving Defendants knew or should have known on September 11th such as the contents of terrorist ringleader Mohammed Atta’s checked luggage and the deadly weapons that Atta and his accomplice successfully carried through the Portland security checkpoint..

- i. US Airways and Colgan Have Failed To Produce Documents and Witnesses Bearing On The Duty and Proximate Cause Issues Raised in US Airways’ and Colgan’s Motions

4. Plaintiffs and WTCP Cross-Claim Plaintiffs have jointly met and conferred with US Airways and Colgan on numerous occasions with respect to US Airways’ and Colgan’s responses and objections to Plaintiffs’ Master Discovery (First Set) and Plaintiffs’ Master Discovery (Second Set) (hereinafter “First Set” and “Second Set”).

5. On March 19, 2007, Plaintiffs and WTCP Cross-Claim Plaintiffs submitted to the Court their portion of a 2E letter setting forth US Airways' failures to produce documents and information responsive to the First Set and Second Set. See March 19, 2007 Letter to Judge Alvin K. Hellerstein, a copy of which is attached hereto as Exhibit 62 (the "US Airways' 2E letter").

6. The US Airways' 2E letter outlined three categories of documents and information to which Plaintiffs and WTCP Cross-Claim Plaintiffs sought immediate production: (1) pre-9/11 terrorist threat information communicated to and from US Airways and pre-9/11 information related to system vulnerabilities, (2) US Airways' security procedures, practices, and protocol for intelligence, prescreening, checkpoint screening and checked bag layers of security, and (3) post 9/11 investigations. See US Airways' 2E letter, at pp. 3-4 Ex. 62 hereto.

7. Since the submission of the US Airways' 2E letter, the parties have again met and conferred and are in the process of finalizing Joint Statements of Position as to the First Set and Second Set. Copies of the most recent drafts of the Joint Statements of Position are attached as Ex. 70 and 71 hereto.

8. Although US Airways has recently agreed to produce many of the documents responsive to the three categories of information set forth in US Airways' 2E letter, US Airways has not produced and the WTCP Cross-Claim Plaintiffs have not received any of the documents responsive to the three categories to date. See Joint Statements of Position, Ex. 70 and 71.

9. Despite the numerous meet and confer sessions with US Airways/Colgan, the WTCP Cross-Claim Plaintiffs have received a mere 2 documents from Colgan to date.

10. The documents and information sought by the WTCP Cross-Claim Plaintiffs in the First Set and Second Set, particularly those responsive to the three categories set forth in the US Airways' 2E letter, are necessary to a complete and effective defense of US Airways' and Colgan's motions.

a) Pre-9/11 Terrorist Threat Information And System Vulnerabilities Relate To Foreseeability of Risk

11. As set forth more fully in the accompanying Memorandum of Law at Points I and II, all documents in US Airways'/Colgan's possession reflecting their knowledge of pre-9/11 terrorist threat information and reflecting their knowledge of pre-9/11 system vulnerabilities to terrorism relate to issues of foreseeability and, accordingly, the existence and scope of US Airways'/Colgan's duties to the Cross Claim Plaintiffs on September 11, 2001.

12. More specifically, documents and testimony concerning what US Airways/Colgan knew or should have known about the potential for multiple, simultaneous and coordinated terrorist attacks on civil aviation (such as the quadruple hijackings in the early 1970s and as the Bojinka plot), relate directly to whether US Airways/Colgan was or should have been aware that suspected terrorists Atta and Omari could have been part of a larger, coordinated terrorist conspiracy to simultaneously attack multiple civilian aircraft or aviation installations. Similarly, documents or testimony reflecting US Airways'/Colgan's knowledge of the rapidly increasing Middle Eastern threat to civil aviation and US Airways'/Colgan's proposed responses to same relate directly to the “risk reasonably to be perceived” -- and thus guarded against -- by US Airways/Colgan. See Memorandum of Law at Points II and III. In addition, documents and testimony related to US Airways’/Colgan’s knowledge of the security conditions at Logan Airport -- the airport through which US Airways/Colgan knew that suspected terrorists Atta and Omari would be connecting to another flight -- are also relevant to defining the risk that US Airways/Colgan should have perceived and protected against.

Id.

13. Thus, until such time as the WTCP Cross-Claim Plaintiffs are provided with discovery relevant to what US Airways/Colgan did know or should have known about these topics, it would be premature to entertain US Airways’/Colgan summary judgment motion directed to the questions of duty and proximate cause.

b) US Airways’/Colgan’s Internal Security Procedures
Relate To Scope of Duty

14. US Airways’/Colgan’s documents establishing their internal security procedures for the various layers and levels of security at issue relate directly to the issues of duty and, therefore, are material and necessary to the defense of the motions.

15. For instance, the guidance provided to ticket agents, such as Mr. Tuohey, in US Airways’/Colgan’s security protocols as to the actions to be taken when confronted with repeated “red flags” that passengers might be terrorists will undoubtedly be probative of whether US Airways/Colgan had a duty to take some steps to notify those at Portland responsible for screening Atta, Omari and their baggage and to notify other potentially impacted airlines and airports (if not the entire civil aviation system as a whole) of an imminent the increased threat of a coordinated multi-pronged series of terrorist attacks on civil aviation arising from the fact that at least two potential terrorists were entering the civil aviation system that day through the auspices of a US Airways flight.

16. The facts surrounding Mr. Tuohey's failure to do anything in response to his identification of Atta and Omari as terrorists raises many questions regarding US Airways'/Colgan's security procedures. For instance, what were US Airways'/Colgan's policies and procedures guiding ticket agents to direct private screenings of suspicious passengers and their baggage? What policies, if any, required US Airways ticket agents to contact the security checkpoints to warn of suspicious persons? What were US Airways'/Colgan's training procedures and policies regarding interrogating suspicious passengers? Did US Airways/Colgan require heightened security procedures for selectees on 9/11? What were US Airways' guidelines for GSCs to implement heightened security procedures?

c) Post 9/11 Investigations

17. Because US Airways'/Colgan's duties with regard to Flight 175 are defined by what they knew or should have known generally about the potential for coordinated simultaneous terrorist attacks on multiple airplanes or aviation facilities and by what they knew or should have known about Atta and Omari specifically (see Memorandum of Law, at Points II and III), any evaluations by US Airways/Colgan of their actions or inactions on September 11, 2001 in response to that day's threat will be highly probative of both (1) whether US Airways/Colgan were impressed with a duty to take some action designed to eliminate or reduce the threat of such a coordinated attack (including such an attack on Flight 175), and (2) whether those actions or inactions were a proximate cause (i.e., a substantial contributing factor) in the hijacking and resulting crash of Flight 175. Yet, to date, US Airways/Colgan have failed to fully produce all documentation of their post-9/11 internal investigations.

d) US Airways/Colgan Have Produced Only Two Witnesses For Depositions

18. The motion should also be denied as premature because US Airways/Colgan have to date produced only two witnesses for depositions, Mike Tuohey and US Airways' Ground Security Coordinator James Dillon. Moreover, even as to those two depositions, the WTCP Cross-Claim Plaintiffs were prejudiced in taking them because US Airways failed to produce pre-9/11 terrorist threat information or its training manuals, protocols and rules regarding the witnesses' security responsibilities. Without US Airways' internal documents reflecting its procedures, it was impossible to test the memory and veracity of the witnesses' testimony concerning their recollection of US Airways' security procedures as of September 11th. In short, the WTCP Cross-Claim Plaintiffs were prejudiced by and prevented from establishing the scope of US Airways' security-related obligations on September 11th.¹

19. The only testimonial evidence that US Airways submits in support of its motion are the affidavits of Charles Severance, the purported Station Manager for US Airways at Portland on September 11th, and Richard Wirth, a US Airways Senior Buyer responsible for security contracts. See Affidavit of Charles Severance in Support of US Airways' Motion for Summary Judgment and Affidavit of Richard J. Wirth in Support of US Airways' Motion for Summary Judgment. However, to date, neither of these witnesses have been produced for a deposition. Indeed, Mr. Severance has not been produced despite the fact that Plaintiffs (including the WTCP and PANYNJ Cross-Claim Plaintiffs) listed Mr. Severence as a high priority witness that they wished to depose in this case. See April 11, 2007 Letter from Tim Tomasik to Des Barry, a copy of which is attached as Exhibit 63 hereto. Colgan similarly submits affidavits of witnesses that have yet to be produced for depositions. Accordingly, Cross-Claim Plaintiffs cannot effectively test or counter the alleged “facts” asserted in either US Airways’ or Colgan’s affidavits.

20. Finally, US Airways and Colgan have not produced any corporate security personnel for depositions despite the fact that Plaintiffs and Cross-Claim Plaintiffs have demanded them. Id.

21. Under these circumstances, where the Cross-Claim Plaintiffs have been provided only flawed and limited access to US Airways’/Colgan’s witnesses knowledgeable of the relevant facts related to the issues of duty and proximate cause (i.e., what US Airways/Colgan knew or should have known generally about the threat of coordinated terrorist attacks in the late Summer of 2001, what US Airways/Colgan knew or should have known specifically about Atta’s and Omari’s potential role in such a coordinated simultaneous attack, and what US Airways’/Colgan’s internal rules, policies, and procedures require when such information is obtained), US Airways’/Colgan’s summary judgment motion is premature and should be denied pursuant to Rule 56(f).

ii. Continental’s Motion For Summary Judgment Is Premature Where It Has Failed to Produce The Basic Documentation Related to Its Role At The Single Checkpoint At The Portland Airport

22. To date, Continental has been served with the First Set and Second Set, supplemental non-carrier interrogatories, supplemental insurance interrogatories, two sets of witness interrogatories, and joint interrogatories. See Exs. 66, 68, 64, 65, and 69, infra. To date, the only discovery response that the Cross-Claim Plaintiffs received from Continental was to the First Set. See April 5, 2005 e-mail from Jason Cohen to Douglas Amster, Ex. 81, infra. And as to Continental's responses to the First Set, they objected to the requests in their entirety and produced no documents to Plaintiffs or the TSA.

23. Prior to Continental's filing of its motion for summary judgment, WTCP Cross-Claim Plaintiffs specifically demanded that Continental "get caught up on its discovery obligations." Id.

24. Clearly, documents and information concerning Continental's responsibility for and relationship with the Portland checkpoint are necessary to defend this motion.

25. On September 11, 2001, the Portland Airport had a single security checkpoint that all passengers (regardless of which air carrier they were boarding) passed through and where all passengers were screened. As one of the air carriers operating out of the Portland Airport, Continental had some "shared responsibility" for the operation of that checkpoint. See 8/9/01 "Shared Responsibility Agreement", TSA Delta 00890, Ex. 75 hereto.

26. However, because Continental has thus far produced no documents or witnesses regarding its Portland operations or its responsibilities for the security screenings undertaken at the single security checkpoint at the Portland Airport, neither this Court nor the Cross-Claim Plaintiffs can evaluate whether Continental's responsibilities were such that it could be charged with a duty to identify potential terrorists passing through that checkpoint and to notify potentially impacted aspects of the civil aviation system of an enhanced threat of terrorist activity once such suspected terrorists and their weapons and highly suspicious items are (or should have been) identified. See Memorandum of Law at Point III.

27. Additionally, in the complete absence of any discovery from Continental, crucial questions defining Continental's duties -- what it did know or should have known concerning potential multiple and simultaneous and coordinated attacks on the civil aviation system and what it did know or should have known about Atta's and Omari's weapons and potential role in such coordinated attacks -- must currently remain unanswered.

28. Plainly, then, where absolutely no discovery has been had from Continental on the relevant issues, Continental's summary judgment motion is premature and must be denied. See Memorandum of Law, at Point II.B.

iii. WTCP and PANYNJ Cross-Claim Plaintiffs Are Waiting For Production of Documents and Items From The FBI Concerning Its Post-September 11th Investigations

29. The United States, a party to this action, has recently agreed to produce documents responsive to the Plaintiffs' requests to the FBI concerning its post-September 11t investigations into the attacks. See Exhibits 89 and 90 hereto.

30. Beyond the foregoing, all the Moving Defendants' motions are clearly premature given that the United States has agreed to produce documents and information which the WTCP and PANYNJ Cross-Claim Plaintiffs believe will demonstrate that a proper search of Atta's checked baggage would have revealed a treasure trove of specific threat information, not the least of which was documentation revealing the specific identities of the Flight 175 hijackers and detailing their operational plans.
